DETAILED ACTION

1. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the abstract is not provided on a separate sheet. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Objections

2. Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: Claim 1 fails to define acronym "CPI" in the claim. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

- 3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:
 The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
- 4. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 fails to recite specifically where the weights for necessities and semi-necessities are implemented. The step of implementing therefore is incomplete and indefinite and the scope of the claimed invention cannot be ascertained. The claim also recites "necessities" and "non-necessities" as abstract terms, without providing any quantitative measure of such terms. In other words such terms are provided without any degree of specificity. Therefore, the claim as a whole is rendered indefinite and vague. Like wise the process step of "adjusting for government subsidies" is also vague and indefinite because this process is recited without particularly pointing out how adjusting is carried out or on basis the adjusting is performed.

Art Unit: 3624

Based upon the foregoing discussion of the claim it asserted that the claim is indefinite and fails to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter of the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

5. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Art Unit: 3624

6. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Under the Interim Guidelines for Examination of Patent Applications for Patent Subject Matter Eligibility a claimed invention must satisfy the requirement that it be directed to a "practical application" which is to mean "the claimed invention physically transforms an article or physical object to a different state or thing, or ... the claimed invention otherwise produces a useful, concrete, and tangible result".

If a claim satisfies those questions, then the claim describes eligible subject matter. In the instant case the claimed invention does not physically transform an article or a physical object to a different state or thing since the claim is not directed to an article or physical object. Therefore, a relevant test to determine eligibility requirement is whether, the claimed invention as a whole is limited to a useful, concrete, and tangible Result.

The following definitions are used as guidelines in determining whether the claimed invention produces a useful, concrete, and tangible result.

Useful — must be (i) specific, (ii) substantial and (iii) credible and specifically recited in the claim.

Tangible — must be some "real-world result." (Tangible is the antonym of abstract.)

Concrete — must have a result that "can be substantially repeatable or the process must substantially produce the same result again." (Concrete is antonym of unrepeatable or unpredictable.)

Art Unit: 3624

The claim recites terms "weights for necessities and non-necessities goods" and "adjusting for government subsidies" without any specificities (see analysis under 35 USC 112 (second). As such implementing weights (presumably in calculation of a CPI number) and adjusting (the CPI number) is an abstract concept since it is not related to a real-world act or usefulness and therefore is not tangible. The claim is also fails to recite a concrete result because the CPI number is strongly dependent upon the implementation of the weights for which there is no standard provided and therefore based upon (selection and implementation of) weights one can obtain varying CPI. Finally, the claim is not directed to any useful results because the CPI number is not relied upon for any real world utility.

In summary, the claim as whole fails to produce a concrete, tangible and useful result and is non statutory subject matter and rejected under 35 USC 101.

Any amendment to the claim should be clearly supported by the disclosure. The applicant is requested to specify appropriate portions of the disclosure if the claim is amended.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
